Butler Musicians Rank Second In State Festival

All Local Entries Rate Superior Or Excellent, Only Manual Receives Higher Score

Butler High School instrumentalists made 10 superiors and 10 excellent in the State High School Music Festival last week at Bowling Green. Only one school, duPont Manual of Louisville, with 12 superiors and four excellent, rated higher.

Barney Linton Named To Honor Fraternity

Frank B. Linton
Lexington.—Frank B. Linton, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Linton, Princeton, was one of ten students at the University of Kentucky elected recently to membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, men's national leadership honor.

A graduate of Butler High School, Linton is a senior in the College of Agriculture at the University.

Omicron Delta Kappa, was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914, and the University of Kentucky Nu Circle was installed in 1925. Its purpose is to recognize men who have attained a high standard of leadership in collegiate activities and to bring together the most representative men in all phases of college life.

Last week Linton was one of seven members of the livestock judging team who received Block and Bridle scholarships awarded junior and senior members of the team. Block and Bridle is an honorary fraternity for outstanding agriculture students. The scholarship was announced at fifth annual Honors Day exercises at the University.

Three Win Trips To 4-H Club Week

Girls Are Awarded Blue Ribbons In Judging Contest

Faye Young, Linda Villines and Loretta Traylor won trips to June 4-H Club Week, Lexington, in 4-H judging contests Saturday at the courthouse.

Miss Traylor will represent the county in the State foods judging contest. Misses Young and Villines will judge canning and clothing, respectively, in the district contests next Wednesday, at Hopkinsville.

Ribbons in the judging contests were awarded Misses Young, Villines and Traylor, blue; Lu Ann Creekmur, Eleanor Crenshaw and Doris George, red, and Joyce Jarvis, white.

Jr. Baseball Team To Be Sponsored By Legion Post

Boys To Report For Practice Tuesday Morning At VFW Park, Manager Says

An American Legion Junior baseball team will be sponsored this summer for the first time by the Post here, Fred Jake, adjutant, announced.

All boys who had not reached the age of 17 years on January 1, 1949, are eligible to try out for the team, Jewell Patterson, manager, said.

First practice session will be at 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday morning, May 24, in VFW ball park. Practice will be each Tuesday and Thursday morning until further notice, Mr. Patterson said. Permission has been granted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post for the Junior team to use the park, Mr. Jake said.

All eligible and interested boys are invited to try out for the team which will be made up of 16 players chosen from those who come out consistently for practice, the manager said. Intrasquad games will be played to find good combinations and suitable players for each position, he said. Those who are not included in the regular team may continue to take part in the morning intra-squad games, he added.

Uniforms will be furnished by Randolph Motors, Ford dealer. In towns where Junior teams are sponsored by the American Legion Posts, Ford dealers co-operate in this way, Mr. Jake said.

Princeton's team will play other Junior teams of the First District. Winner in the district will play in the regional, the winner in the regional going to the State series. The State winner will play in the Little World Series.

District play will begin in July, Mr. Jake said. This mid-summer date has been set in order to permit players time to practice after all schools in the State are dismissed, he added.

Last fall 17 players who took part in the World Series games were graduates of American Legion Junior teams, and about half the major league players once played on Junior teams, Mr. Jake said.

Two Will Attend Fire School In Lexington

Clyde Kercheval, chief of Princeton's Fire Department, and Delmar Shortt, department member, plan to attend the Kentucky Fire School June 7-9, Lexington. About 400 fire fighters from the State are expected at the annual training session, State Fire Marshal W. L. Martin said.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. Wins Congress Seat

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.
New York.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., won a seat in Congress Tuesday in a triumphant battle with Tammany Hall which his father fought early in his political career 35 years ago.

The lanky, handsome young son of one of the nation's famous political families was the first of the late President's five children to run for office.

12 Pupils Receive Awards Tuesday

Recognition Given For Outstanding Achievement

Twelve Butler High School pupils were recognized Tuesday night at Senior Class Night activities for outstanding achievement.

Mrs. Rebecca Arnett, Daytona Beach, Fla., is the guest of relatives here.

Work Will Begin Soon On Water Filtration Plant

Engineers Advise City Officials Plans For Improvements Are Ready Now

Plans for improvements to Princeton's water plant have been completed, according to a message from Black and Veatch engineers, read at Monday night's city Council meeting. The engineering company stated specifications are now in process of preparation and work on the improvements will probably begin at an early date.

The proposed improvements include a filtration plant, water softener and other modern facilities. Plans and specifications will be submitted to the State Department of Health, Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, for approval.

The city board of tax supervisors, composed of George Stephens, S. J. Leford and Henry Butler, in session since last Thursday, is reviewing and making corrections where indicated in city tax assessment lists, it was stated. City Assessor W. E. Jones is meeting with the supervisors and persons aware of corrections which should be made, may see the board at the city hall.

Regulars Lose To Smithland Team, 4-3

Princeton Regulars lost to Smithland, 4-3, Sunday afternoon in the second game of the Twin-States Baseball League. After a scoreless five innings, Smithland's Pugh drove in three runs when he doubled with the bases loaded in the sixth. Each team made a score in the seventh and the Regulars picked up two more in the eighth. Pickens, pitching for Princeton, struck out 17 batters. The Regulars will play at Grand Rivers Sunday.

Fourth Graders Take Train Trip Tuesday

Twenty-three Fourth Grade pupils of Eastside Grade School, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Carl Moore, went by car to Dawson Springs Tuesday and returned by train. An ice cream treat was furnished by Mrs. Moore. Parents who took the children to Dawson Springs were Gilbert Chandler and Mesdames Dewey Brinkley, Oscar George and Owen Crowder.

S. Hunter Green will be in charge of arrangements for the tour.

Howard Rice Seriously Ill Following Stroke

Howard Rice, cashier of Farmers National Bank, was reported slightly improved at the Princeton Hospital following a stroke suffered Thursday morning at the bank. It was noticed he was having difficulty in waiting on a customer, a doctor was called and he was taken to the hospital, where his condition is still serious.

Gloria Sue Lamb Struck By Car

6 Year-Old Child Suffers Fractured Skull In Accident

Gloria Sue Lamb, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Lamb, Dawson Road, is in a fair condition in the Princeton hospital after suffering a fractured skull when struck by an automobile late Wednesday afternoon, May 11, in front of Beshers Lumber Company, Dawson Road.

The accident occurred when the little girl ran in front of a car driven by the Rev. Raymond Carl Boyd, Route 1, Dawson Springs. She apparently waited until a car coming from Princeton passed and then started across the road without looking in the other direction, Louis W. Oliver, State policeman, said.

Mr. Oliver, who lives near the scene of the accident and arrived in time to help carry the child from the road, reported the driver was exonerated of blame. Rev. Mr. Boyd was driving at an estimated 35 miles an hour, a witness told the officer.

About 10 years ago another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamb was fatally injured when struck by a car on the Dawson Road.

Will Convene State Tax Commission In Princeton To Hear Individual Taxpayers; Hearing Will Be Public, "No Cause For Alarm For Any Citizen Who Believes In Being Treated Like His Neighbor"

The assessment of each property owner who requests that his tax levy be reviewed by the State Tax Commission will receive this attention, Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves said this week.

The hearings will be held in the courthouse here early in June.

This information was contained in a letter from Mr. Reeves to the Leader, which states further: "There is no occasion for any taxpayer who believes in being treated like his neighbor to be alarmed. If there is substantial inequality in assessments, it will be eliminated. If assessments are reasonable and fair, the action of the Caldwell County Board of Supervisors will be sustained."

Three To Attend Boys State Week

Legion, Jaycees And Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Trip

Three Butler High School Junior boys will be sent to Bluegrass Boys State Week, June 11-18, Fort Knox, by the American Legion Post in co-operation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club, Fred Jake, Post adjutant, announced.

Those who will attend are Robert H. McConnell, Charles W. Adams and David Alexander. The boys were chosen by the faculty on the basis of leadership, scholarship and co-operation, Mr. Jake said.

This is the first year Princeton boys have been sent to the Legion-sponsored Boys State Week. Boys from all over the State who attend the program will form political parties and elect State and local officials. Inauguration of the "governor" will be Tuesday night, June 14, and this ceremony is open to the public, Mr. Jake said.

The week's program will be one of training in American citizenship and government. Princeton's representatives have been invited to attend a banquet June 2 at Paducah in honor of those attending Boys State Week from this section. Paducah will have 36 representatives at Fort Knox.

The boys will live in barracks and will be in the care of trained supervisors, Mr. Jake said.

The same week Pat Horn and Rosie Beck, Butler, and Barbara Williams, Fredonia High School, will attend Girls State Week, Lexington, under the sponsorship of the Legion Auxiliaries of Princeton and Fredonia and the Princeton Business and Professional Women's Club.

To Practice In Capital

Lexington.—(AP)—John Sherman Cooper, former United States senator from Somerset, said this week he will practice law in Washington.

Editor
Princeton Leader
Princeton, Kentucky
Dear Sir:

In the interest of clarifying the assessment situation in Caldwell county, I hope you will print the following statement in an early issue of the Princeton Leader.

The Department of Revenue undertook to assist the county tax commissioner in improving and equalizing assessments of property in Caldwell county. This was done at the request of local civic organizations and local officials.

The County Board of Supervisors sharply reduced some assessments made by the tax commissioner. This may have been entirely proper. However, it has been charged that, deliberately or otherwise, the Board of Supervisors played favorites.

For many years, it has been the practice of the Kentucky Tax Commission to review actions of Board of Supervisors whenever their findings were in marked disagreement with recommendations of the Department of Revenue.

In keeping with the established practice, the Kentucky Tax Commission has notified many property owners of Caldwell county of its desire to review the reductions made in their assessments by the Board.

If any taxpayer, who received such a notice, believes the first assessment to have been too high and that the assessment made by the Board of Supervisors was more nearly correct, he should write the Department of Revenue in Frankfort before May 25. A simple letter is all that is required and it may be written on the back of the notice which the taxpayer received. The assessment of the property of each taxpayer so requesting will be reviewed. The taxpayer will be advised when the members of the Kentucky Tax Commission will be in Caldwell county to talk with him about his assessment. It is expected this will be early in June.

These hearings are simple and public. There is no occasion for any taxpayer who believes in being treated like his neighbor to become alarmed. If there is substantial inequality in assessments, it will be eliminated. If assessments are reasonable and fair, the action of the Caldwell County Board of Supervisors will be sustained.

Sincerely yours,
H. Clyde Reeves,
Commissioner of Revenue

Conway Lacy Heads City "Citizens Ticket"

The first ticket for Mayor and Councilmen to be announced in the election coming up this November is that headed by Conway Lacy for mayor and Lee Cardin, Kentucky Bi-Products Co.; J. Bart Griffith, war veteran, commander of the American Legion Post here and I. C. employee; Cooper Crider, farmer; Walter Rogers, grocer; Willard "Bill" Millstead, Capitol Theater employee, and Hugh E. Blackburn, motor car dealer, as candidates for membership on the City Council.

"Our platform is being prepared now and we will have a full statement of our aims and objectives for Princeton, to be published a little later," Mr. Lacy said this week.

"Our ticket is comprised mostly by young men who have an earnest desire to see Princeton go forward and to develop as indications seem to point out it will in the next few years, the candidate for Mayor said.

"We ask the people of Princeton to read our platform, when it appears in this newspaper, probably next week, and to give our group, to be known as the 'Citizens Ticket', consideration when they go to cast their ballots in the November general election," Mr. Lacy concluded.

John B. Morgan In Race For County Court Clerk

To the Voters and Citizens of Caldwell County:

After having been approached by numerous interested citizens throughout the County and after careful consideration of the responsibilities of the office, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Caldwell County Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican Primary, Saturday, Aug. 6.

If nominated and elected, I will perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability, without regard to politics or individuals.

I hope to see each voter personally, but if I am not able to do so, please consider this my personal solicitation for your support and influence in this first race for County office.

Neighbors Deal Rightly With Carnival

A carnival which visited Princeton was at Paducah last week . . . and did not enjoy the same freedom of action in the McCracken metropolis always accorded such traveling aggregations here. In fact, the carnival folk fell into serious trouble.

First two of the visiting "showmen" got themselves arrested for short-changing some of the Paducah business folk. A subsequent search of their hotel room disclosed 10,000 marihuana cigarettes.

Meanwhile, McCracken county's sanitarian, an official of the county health office, inspected the grounds where the carnival was doing business . . . and promptly swore out a warrant charging operation without a health department permit and maintaining a common nuisance. The carnival was set up just outside Paducah's city limits.

An affidavit supporting the warrant charged the carnival with "maintaining a condition prejudicial to the health, comfort, property, sense of decency and morals of the citizens at large."

As has been often stated in these columns, nothing other than what the McCracken county officials found to be true of the carnival which visited their community last week is to be expected of this type traveling show. The warrant did not state explicitly that dirt and filth of several highly dangerous varieties was found on the carnival lot but this may safely be taken for granted.

The marihuana cigaret angle is, of course, fraught with the direst dangers to the morals, health and even the lives of the people who were suffering such visitors to remain in their midst; for marihuana smokers are bereft of morals and completely out of control.

Princeton was for many years a prime favorite with carnivals. The license fee here was low and toleration of all the sins of the so-called show folk was at a very comfortable high, for them. This situation was remedied, in part, in recent years by enactment of an ordinance which materially increased the license charge here, so that unless the carnivals gain sponsorship of one of the veterans' organizations, they do not locate inside Princeton's limits often. Still, some come to perpetrate their numerous evils at the edges of our town.

The example of how to deal with carnivals set by our neighbors down at Paducah last week is that of an enlightened community whose public officials are awake to the dangers to morals, health and human life which come when unprincipled strangers, usually the masters of all the arts of the gyp and the charlatan, bring a carnival to a community.

Fred M. Vinson's Spectacular Rise

Kentucky's Fred Vinson is one of the most photographed men in Washington. And just a few years ago he was a member of the Kentucky delegation in congress, recognized as a man of much more than ordinary ability but with few, even among his closest friends, foreseeing the spectacular rise from county seat resident to chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Although he began his congressional career in Louisa, he changed his residence for the larger opportunities in law practice in Ashland, largest city in eastern Kentucky, while out of congress. But when he returned to the U. S. house of representatives after being away two years he was really on his way toward the top, which he reached in the federal judiciary in June, 1946.

Born in jail—as he facetiously says, because his father was jailer of Lewis county at that time—it is Louisa he still claims as home when he talks of coming back to Kentucky to mingle with the home folks. His experience as a lawyer has been varied—city and district prosecutor, judge of the U. S. court of appeals in the District of Columbia, and on to the supreme court. Along with that he was in congress a dozen years, was federal loan administrator, director of the office of economic stabilization and of war mobilization and reconversion, then secretary of the treasury for a year before accepting a lifetime appointment to head the nation's highest court. It was a steady advance that kept him before the public without effort on his part. It proved his capacity.

Chief Justice Vinson has not been a man continually seeking office. He has been ready to fill whatever place opened before him. He was a student in his young years, and that disposition is his as he stands at the pinnacle of judicial eminence. And by those who knew him when he was just plain Fred Vinson, his path to fame has been watched with pleasure. His progress has been both steady and rapid. The times have been responsible for his appointment to the several high posts to which President Harry S. Truman and former President Franklin D. Roosevelt called him when in search of a man whose superior ability recommended him. The Presidents who promoted Fred M. Vinson from congress step by step to chief justice never had to guess at his stature. It was there, commanding notice, demanding attention, justifying honorable mention.

There is only one government post that Fred M. Vinson could fill that is higher than the position he now holds, and to most lawyers being chief justice of the supreme court is held a more distinguishing mark of ability than to be President of the United States. A chief justice is chosen because his training and experience warrants his being singled out, while a President's election is principally political. As a party nominee, the President campaigns, while one being considered for chief justice occupies that enviable status without making application for it, and when he is recommended and the senate confirms him, he has reached the most exalted position for which a legal background has qualified him. This is the record of Kentucky's Fred M. Vinson, now chief justice of the U. S. supreme court.

Kentucky On The March

State Needs Good Eating Places

By Ewing Galloway

Few will fall out with you if you insist that Kentucky is what it is because Kentuckians are what they are.

I'm following that line of reasoning a little farther by saying Kentuckians are what they are largely because the food they eat is what it is.

About 49 of every 50 adults who are working cheerfully for a living and doing their bit for the public good are well fed, which means good foodstuffs in the first place and first-rate cooking in the second place.

About people below par it is safe to put the ratio in reverse. Like a steam engine fired with inferior coal, a person who eats low-grade food doesn't perform well.

Thirty years ago I was talking with James Derieux about the kind of South Carolinians who elected Cole Blease governor, then senator. Derieux was a newspaper reporter on tour with Blease, who appealed to the most primitive prejudices of the state's most backward voters.

"Those people are what they are because they eat the very commonest grade food," said Derieux. "Back-country people and none too well enlightened, but really as good as you and me. They live on corn pone, salt pork, grits and sorghum. The same grub practically every meal, 365 days in the year. That they should be morose, high tempered, quick to respond to a demagogue, is perfectly natural."

Which brings us around to the low quality of food served in a large majority of eating places in Kentucky. In the last 3 or 4 years I have visited villages, towns and cities from the West Virginia line to the Mississippi River, from Maysville to the Tennessee border, and outside the larger cities I haven't found more than half a dozen good places to eat. In some of the good sized cities all I can say for their best restaurants is that they are so-so.

The so-so eateries make money because they have no superior competition. The low grade places survive for the same reason. People have got to eat somewhere. I have been eating in restaurants a good deal for forty years, and I have never known a good one, well managed to fail. Serving good grub is the surest way of making money that I know of.

If I were 20 years younger I would start a restaurant myself. And, of course, I'd begin by hiring good cooks, not by promoting dishwashers or bus boys because I could get them cheap.

Pennyrile Postscripts
By G.M.P.

A street preacher using loud speakers at Maryville, Tenn., was fined $50 in city court there one day last week for violating an ordinance. Princeton has no ordinance against loud speakers being used in the business district . . . to the considerable disturbance of the peace . . . but such an ordinance undoubtedly is needed here.

Among business folk, Howard Rice's sudden illness was universally deplored last week. Mr. Rice, quiet, unassuming, gentlemanly and kind to all, was admired and greatly liked by those who came into daily contact with him . . . all of whom hope he may have a speedy recovery, and team sports.

Dr. Kenneth L. Barnes, a great favorite here at home, is also a popular man with his fellow physicians, everywhere. He has been serving for some months on a State-wide committee for improved medical services to the public at large and last week, was elected first vice president of the Southwestern Medical Association, at a convention in Paducah.

There is, I am advised, a fine opening in Princeton for a sign painter. Saul Tom Simmons, Merle Drain and others, having tried their hands at this work, advise me they positively are through and will go to Hopkinsville, if necessary, the next time they need signs painted.

Dick Ratliff's project, between the railroad and "Dead Man's Curve," on the Cadiz road, is eye catching . . . and very helpful to that section of town. His plan for a road to connect the Cadiz highway with US 62, at the south side of Jim Shrewsbury's lot, ought to have the ardent support of both city and county. It would be still better, of course to run this connecting link from Dead Man's Curve due West to the Eddyville Road, coming out near the new hospital site.

While Dick is making a substantial payment on Edwin Lamb's bulldozer, his talented wife, Lois, is plying her decorator's art over at Madisonville these days. Dr. Thomas told her recently that working for others wouldn't hurt her . . . but opined she'd be sick in bed if she had to spend the same time and effort "ironing at home."

From Stanford Banker Arthur McGough sends a copy of the Interior Journal which has a piece about a ham robber's capture on its front page . . . disclosing that three of the stolen hams were recovered, with the culprit, in the belfry of the colored Baptist Church. In the churchyard, eight more of the missing hams were found. The hams were all from Mercer county, where farmers had lost a total of 79 recently.

The editor of the Interior Journal published an editorial expressing regret about a news item which told of a friend being arrested for drunkenness . . . saying he much prefers to print nothing but good news but feels he must publish such items as the drunk's arrest "because we believe such publicity is a greater deterrent to public drunkenness than a $10 fine."

George Stephens says it is no wonder to him Pennyriller is not able to go the gaits necessary to having fun these days. George says he has been like that for some time and opines good behavior, regular hours and the other exemplary habits of mature years are a necessity, in addition to be an approved virtue.

Vaudeville is staging a surprisingly successful come-back in the big time Mecca of that type of entertainment, the Palace Theater, New York . . . much to the delight of old-timers and a good many of the younger generation. Opinion of the stage crafters is that television has been responsible for this.

While I have had no personal contacts with him since the days when we both were officer candidates in a World War II training camp, I am sure our neighbors over in Union county are fortunate to have so splendid a citizen as Tom T. Richards serving them as county judge. Judge Richards has just announced his candidacy for reelection. He has the education, the family background, the temperament and the good will to make an outstanding public official.

The current Boy Scouts bulletin says: A man may fall several times . . . but he isn't a failure until he starts saying somebody pushed him.

Adversity is sometimes hard upon man; but for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a hundred that will stand adversity. —Thomas Carlyle.

Washington Letter

By Jane Eads

Washington — Whenever the test tube boys in the Department of Agriculture want to get the public's reaction to certain new foods they try them out on employees eating in the building's cafeteria. Sometimes forms are circulated at meal times when recipes are tried out, and diners are asked to put down what they think of the food. Sometimes they just wait to see if the diners ask for the foods a second time.

Currently the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry is getting "public reaction" to such new foods as lemon meringue pie made with a soybean protein whip instead of egg white and orange sherbet made from a new frozen puree of tree-ripened oranges.

The bureau devotes most of its attention to a search for new and wider industrial outlets for farm crops and to improve methods for the commercial processing of foods and feeds, in the hope of increasing farm income.

Much time is saved, cheaper and tastier foods have been developed and transportation and storage costs have been cut by many of the new processing methods. Also many new uses have been discovered for surplus and waste materials. Dr. G. W. Irving, Jr., assistant chief of the bureau, tells me.

For instance, a way has been found to grow mushroom mycelium on synthetic media by a new method. The product, which has the consistency of yeast and all the flavor and nutrient value of the umbrella mushroom, can be grown in great quantities in a matter of days instead of months, and more cheaply to boot.

New "dehydrofrozen" peas are one-half the weight and take up one-half the bulk for the same number of fresh peas and can be poured from the package instead of blocking together. The bureau has also brought out a process for treating citrus fruit with ethylene gas to bring out its bright orange or yellow color. In addition to foods, the bureau has recently developed four new synthetic fibers, from proteins of corn, milk, nuts and chicken feathers. It has also worked out a treatment for low-grade cotton linter that gives it a linen-like fullness, a method for producing motor fuels from corn, a springy curled filament used a new type of carburetor filter and which is also suited for mattresses and upholstery furniture; a valuable product fed from waste vegetable leaves.

Vote for the one that's better for you

"But I don't drive a locomotive!" you say. "What do you mean 'better for me'?"

Consider the two steam locomotives pictured above. At the top is an Illinois Central locomotive of 1921; below it you see a current model 50 per cent more powerful.

The modern locomotive pulls heavier trains faster, helps handle freight so efficiently that the average cost to shippers in 1948 was less than 1/5¢ per ton-mile more than in 1921.

It's efficient equipment such as this that prevents today's high material and wage costs from raising freight rates to equally high levels.

This same efficient equipment enabled 40,000 Illinois Central workers to earn 106 per cent more last year than they did in 1921.

With sufficient earnings to continue improving our equipment and property, the Illinois Central and its workers will strive to earn your continued patronage and friendship.

County Agent's Column

By R. A. Mabry

Interest in the purchase of breeding ewes by farmers of the county was rather high last year and promises to be again this year. While the demand for ewes is high, reports indicate that the supply will be very limited again this year. Orders for ewes should be placed soon as many growers have already placed orders for the summer delivery.

Many farmers of the county are in need of more livestock on their farms to make use of pasture and hays produced would do well to consider flock of 25 to 50 or more ewes on their farms.

Sheep are very efficient users of pastures and hays and require very little grain. As a large part of farm land is unsuited to frequent cultivation to corn most farmers would do well to put more emphasis on good pastures and more time and attention to livestock. Ladino white clover grown alone makes a very good pasture for sheep and hogs as there is very little if any danger of bloat.

Cattle should not be allowed to graze pure ladino pastures unless they are watched carefully for bloat.

Where a ladino clover and grass pasture is used for cattle very little trouble with bloat has been experienced.

Blue mold has been reported on plant beds in the county. Treatment against this disease should be started now as a preventive. Those who do not begin immediate treatment should watch their beds daily and begin treatment at the first signs of the disease in the bed.

Treat with fernate or dithane one-half pound to 25 gallons of water using four to six gallons of this mixture to 100 square yards of bed as a spray. These

The Vine Crop Insects

The most troublesome insect affecting cucumbers and all that family is the striped cucumber beetle. As an adult, it gnaws the vines, which wilt and die beyond the point of injury, as is quite commonly observed. While this damage is aggravating, much more serious is that the insect does as an infant, so to speak, for it causes complete destruction, the "dying over night" about which so many correspondents write. But, to explain.

The adult beetles winter over in any shelter they may find, and when the cucumbers first break ground, gather there, laying eggs in the soil cracks the seedlings make. From these eggs hatch larvae ("worms") that attack the roots of the seedlings which die at all stages, depending on the severity of the injury. Some plants may in fact persist until fruit sets before they perish from damage inflicted perhaps six weeks before.

Now, knowing when the trouble first starts, control must be started then, too. The best method is dusting and the most effective material is DDT, 3 percent.

Two materials may also be used as a dust with good results by following directions of the manufacturer. Spray or dust twice weekly and after every rain until setting is completed. Remove the canvas before applying either as a dust or spray.

OIL AND WATER DO MIX

There is a knack to it, of course, but oil and water can be mixed to form a smooth, uniform liquid.

Actually, there is more to it than a knack. It is a technic known to pharmacy as emulsification. With a mortar and pestle, the pharmacist first mixes the oil with a vegetable gum. This separates the oil into tiny globules and coats each with a thin film of gum. Adding the water slowly, with brisk stirring, the pharmacist suspends the gum-coated globules of oil and produces a smooth, white liquid which resembles milk.

As a matter of fact, milk itself is an emulsion of butter fat in water.

Physicians often prescribe emulsions for patients who dislike the taste of a medication, and is a form of medication well suited to children.

When your physician prescribes an emulsion, or any other special form of medication, you can be confident that your pharmacist possesses the specific knowledge necessary for its preparation. He has devoted long and continuing years of study to drugs and their behavior under varying conditions. No matter how complicated or difficult the prescription, this rigid scientific training has prepared him to compound medications into the precise form requested by your doctor. Your pharmacist is a professional man, thoroughly conscious of the responsibilities and obligations of his calling.

News From The Past

News representing lives, hopes, dreams and ambitions of those who made up the populace of Princeton and Caldwell county almost 40 years ago recorded nowhere but in the yellowed files of Twice-A-Week Leader of those years will be published as a regular Leader feature. The articles are reproduced just as the Princeton reporters, shortly after the turn of the century, wrote them.

May 14, 1929. Miss Gladys Waggoner, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Sisk for the past month, at their home at Birmingham, Mich., is expected home tomorrow. She will be accompanied by little Miss Mary Neal Sisk, Mr. and Mrs. Sisk are expected in a few days, by motor.

May 14, 1929. W. L. Granstaff submitted to an operation for the removal of an internal goitre Saturday morning at the I. C. Hospital at Paducah, and at last report was rallying from the ordeal nicely.

May 14, 1929. Mrs. Arthur McGough was host to her bridge club Wednesday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were in progress. Prizes were awarded and a luncheon was served. cent strength, as being safe on tender cucumber foliage. Five percent dust may be made usable by mixing it with flour, three lbs. to two lbs., respectively.

Five dustings are needed, the first when the hills just begin "humping"; the second, three days after, and the others at five-day intervals. A sifter may be used, but better, a dustgun with the "fan" nozzle removed, so that a solid stream of dust may be directed, always at the center of the hill.

Veterans' News

The Columbus (Ohio) District Office of the Veterans Administration which handles service life insurance accounts for Michigan-Ohio-Kentucky veterans of World War II, today reminded ex-servicemen that a physical examination is required for reinstatement of National Service Life Insurance which has been lapsed more than three months. VA insurance officials pointed out that there are two methods of reinstating lapsed "GI" insurance:

1. For term insurance that has been lapsed for less than three months, and if the veteran's health is as good as it was on the date his last premium was due, it is only necessary to complete an application form and pay two monthly premiums. On permanent (converted) insurance, all back premiums plus interest must be paid.

2. A physical examination is required for reinstatement of all insurance that has been lapsed for more than 90 days. If a veteran's insurance has been lapsed for less than 90 days and he cannot certify to continued good health, a physical examination is also required. Examinations can be arranged at VA outpatient clinics or through a private physician.

Jest Among Us

By Jack Wild

Everybody wonders what is going to happen to the movies when television comes. Well, I predict that one of these days some Hollywood magnate will come to the supercolossal conclusion that, in a nation of 140,000,000 people, there must be 140,000,000 potential moviegoers' nose and nothing for them to smell in the movies but popcorn and candy in the next row.

That, then, will be the birth of the Smellies. Theaters throughout the land thereafter will be equipped with super-sensitive atomizers — sprinkler systems up in the rafters perhaps — to spray the customers with appropriate scents whilst on the screen the fair maiden blushes prettily in technicolor and the nasty villain snarls along the sound track. Can't you just smell starched gingham, the newmown hay, the breath of garlic. That's Smellavision.

Elvis Stahr is a prime example of a small-town boy who has made good in a big way. A native of Hickman, on the east bank of the Mississippi, and the son of the circuit judge there, he attended the University of Kentucky and managed to make an "A" in every course he took. More words were needed to outline his collegiate activities for the school annual than for any other member of the graduating class. As a Rhodes scholar at Oxford University, England, he earned three more degrees. For several years he practiced law with a prominent New York firm, and served in China during the war. At 32 he became dean of the U. K. College of Law, the youngest dean of a fully accredited law school in the country. This year the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce named the boy from Hickman one of the nation's ten outstanding young men of 1948.

DAIRYMEN YOU CAN USE DDT!

The Federal Security Agency and the Department of Agriculture issued the following statement on April 5, 1949 after a meeting of the principal government agencies concerned with the utilization of DDT in the national and international health and economy.

"A number of statements have been published during the last several days which have misled and alarmed the public concerning the hazard of using DDT as an insecticide . . . The Food and Drug Administration has not prohibited the use of DDT in spraying dairy cattle and barns . . . There is no justification for public alarm as to the safety of the milk supply from the standpoint of DDT contamination."

Homemakers Discuss Planning Of Houses

Meeting to discuss planning of houses, members of homemakers clubs in Fulton county were told by Miss Ida C. Hagman of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky: 1. To locate houses at least same distance from stock barns. 2. To plan for present-day living, forgetting tradition. 3. To list all activities that must be carried on in the house and plan accordingly. 4. To stick to simple lines and broad chimneys. 5. To locate picture windows so as to give a good view.

Land Prices May Have Reached Top

After 10 years of almost steady climbing, land prices in the country as a whole may have reached the postwar peak, says the United States Department of Agriculture. In Kentucky, however, prices advanced 8 percent from March 1, 1948, to March of this year, according to the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Values in this state are 192 percent above the pre-war average.

Land prices for the whole country turned downward about one percent during the last four months ending March 1. This is said to be the first significant decline since the late thirties. For the country as a whole, prices are still more than double the average in 1935-39.

In the last four months, land prices were said to be holding firmer in the Middle Atlantic and East South-Central states than in other regions. They were declining in the Mountain and Pacific states and in scattered states in the East North-Central and New England regions. Increases were found in half of the states, but these were more than offset by declines in 16 states. Voluntary sales of land in the United States fell off 17 percent during the past year as compared with the previous year; and sales were down nearly a third below the peak shown for the year ending March, 1947.

REA Expansion Is Encouraged

Frankfort, May 10.—The Kentucky Public Service Commission intends to give every encouragement to the expansion of electric facilities in sections of Kentucky not now served, whether the source be private or public, Chairman Robert M. Coleman announced today.

The record will show that our commission has granted every request during this administration for an expansion of facilities," said Coleman.

Gov. Earle C. Clements echoed the assurance of Coleman and declared that the fact that forty percent of Kentucky's farm homes are without electricity constituted a "challenge" to distributors of power, from whatever source derived, and added: "The person who is without electric service is not interested in whether the power comes from the REA or from private utilities but he is vitally interested in obtaining power so he can turn on lights in his own home."

"We intend to work co-operatively toward that end and assist both groups in every possible way."

The Governor called upon both distributors of private and public power to pool their resources in an effort to tackle the problem and assure power facilities for farm families not now served.

It is recalled here that two years ago, Clements as a candidate for Governor pledged himself to "fight for every measure which will make REA service easier and cheaper, so

Land Classified For Conservation

The chief cause of eroded fields and depleted fertility in Kentucky is the use of land for purposes to which it is not use and water management adapted, it is set out in a land plan for a farm, published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Therefore, the first and most important step to be taken in developing a plan for controlling soil erosion increasing the productivity of a farm and maintaining soil fertility economically, is to plan to use land only for the purpose to which it is best suited.

On most farms the land can be divided into the following four classes by the landowner:

1. Permanent woodland, which may supply posts and lumber for farm use.
2. Permanent pasture, usually land so steep or irregular that erosion can be controlled best by permanent vegetation.
3. Rotation crop land where contour cultivation, terracing or the use of diversion ditches, are required to control erosion or artificial drainage is needed to remove surplus soil water.

that every farm and rural home in Kentucky may have electric lights and power at fair and reasonable rates."

Following the Governor's statement representatives to both private power groups and publicly-owned rural electric co-operatives promised to make a "power survey" of Kentucky to determine what could be done.

1,200 To Attend Annual 4-H Week

The University of Kentucky, at Lexington, is preparing to accommodate 1,000 boys and girls and 200 club leaders and county and home demonstration agents at the 26th annual 4-H Week June 7-11.

Club members to attend are being selected at 12 district demonstration contests over the state. All of the 120 counties will be represented at 4-H Week. Team and individual demonstrations in farm practices and individual demonstrations in home economics will be features of the 4-H Week program.

A dress revue, winner of which will compete in a national revue, is expected to attract girls from 75 counties.

Club members attending the week will see the experimental work under way at the Agricultural Experiment Station, and study the beef cattle, dairy cattle and swine herds and the sheep and poultry flocks.

New officers will be elected for the Kentucky Association of 4-H Clubs. Present officers are Dale Stahl, Warren county, president; Dorris Clifford, Harrison county, vice president, and Mary Sue Cornett, Clay county, secretary.

Boys attending 4-H Week will be housed in the men's dormitories and girls in the women's dormitories at the University of Kentucky.

Letters To The Reader Editor

PRINCETON LEADER
Princeton, Kentucky.

Sir:
The Caldwell County Tax Committee believe the county has now come to a point where it is necessary to issue a statement. The committee has been informed that a few local citizens have been invited to the Caldwell County Tax Commission to assist in improving and equalizing assessments of property in Caldwell County.

We believe this invitation is a step in the right direction. We have now come to a point where it is necessary to issue a statement. The committee has been informed that a few local citizens have been invited to the Caldwell County Tax Commission to assist in improving and equalizing assessments of property in Caldwell County.

However, we do not believe that the representatives of the Caldwell County Tax Commission have been sufficiently well informed to act fairly and wisely in the matter of assessing property values as to be equitable. We believe that the representatives of the Caldwell County Tax Commission have proved this statement to be true.

Letters To The Editor

PRINCETON LEADER
Princeton, Kentucky.
Sir:
The Caldwell County Taxpayers' Committee believe that the county has now come for the committee to issue a statement. The committee has been informed that a few local officials are a few of the local civic organizations invited the Department of Revenue to assist the County Tax Commissioner in improving and equalizing the assessments of property in Caldwell County.
We believe this invitation was issued with the thought in mind that representatives of the Department of Revenue would come to Caldwell County and make a thorough investigation of property values in Caldwell County and to so acquaint themselves with the individual properties in Caldwell County as to enable them to act fairly in assessing the County Tax Commissioner.
However, we do not believe that representatives of the Department of Revenue came into this county with the thought in mind of sufficiently well acquainting themselves with the property values as to be of real assistance. We believe their actions have proved this statement, because we believe that the overall property assessment now has as many inequities as it had before the Department of Revenue agents came into the county.

If the agents of the Department of Revenue had investigated the local property values thoroughly and tried to help the County Tax Commissioner equalize the assessments, we believe this situation would not exist as it does exist.
We understand it has been charged that the Board of Supervisors "played favorites". We wish to state that we are thoroughly convinced that the Board of Supervisors did not "play favorites" and are ready to present the action of the Board of Supervisors and the record made by them to support this statement.
We feel that the letter signed by the county judge, county clerk, county attorney, sheriff, county tax commissioner, circuit court clerk and the seven magistrates states in clear and no uncertain language what we also think of the splendid work which was done by the board of supervisors.
It is time the people of this county and of the State should rise to defend what little home rule we have left. When the chairman of the Kentucky Tax Commission sees fit to disregard the final action of the County Board of Supervisors and substitute therefor the opinion of two field representatives, without conducting any hearing to determine whether or not the two field representatives had real information as to the property values in Caldwell county, it is time to become alarmed. The time is short for the mailing in of the protests. We have prepared the protests for your convenience in making same. We realize that many have already made their individual protests in addition to those who have protested through this committee. Therefore, we urgently request that all who have made individual protests advise this Committee that they have so acted. You may do so by writing Gordon Lisanby or William E. Jones, Princeton. ### Five Dairy Show Dates Scheduled

Frankfort, — Commissioner of Agriculture Harry F. Walters has announced dates for five district dairy shows to be held this year in which 4-H and FFA members are expected to exhibit more than 1,000 animals. Last year, the first in which the shows were held, 731 animals were exhibited.
The shows will be at Mayfield, August 15; Bowling Green, August 16; Campbellsville, August 17; Shelbyville, August 18 and Flemingsburg, August 19.
George Harris, Carrollton, and C. S. Bell, Louisville, both former field agents in dairying at the University of Kentucky, will serve as judges for the show.
A $5,000 fund has been made available by the General Assembly for conduct of the shows and payment of premiums. The Danish system of judging will be used. The 4-H activities at the shows are being administered by J. W. Whitehouse, Lexington, University of Kentucky 4-H State leader. Jerry Montgomery, Frankfort, is in charge of FFA work.
Walters said at each of the five shows there will be a showmanship ring and from that ring animals will be chosen eligible to compete for the Commissioner's trophy at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville in September. John Foster, field agent in dairying at the University of Kentucky, will judge the showmanship rings.

Sandwich and cake plates made of colorful plastic are overlaid with deposits of sterling silver in leafy designs.

The Hoover Commission's Report To Congress

Washington — The "Hoover Commission's" report was a plan of battle. It was drawn up amid intense controversies within the 12-man, bipartisan commission itself—as revealed by the many dissenting recommendations—but the majority did agree on a program for reorganizing the executive branch of the government.

Now the battle lines will form in Congress. But much of the program can be quietly adopted by the President and his agency chiefs if the President wishes to do so. The Budget Bureau has made a tentative analysis of the commission's reports and has estimated that they contain about

Courtesy Is Expensive

Stillwater, Okla.—(AP)—The Stillwater Police department has been to courteous—so it's going to stop. Mayor A. B. Alcott has ordered police to discontinue the courtesy of inserting coins in parking meters for motorists who leave the money attached to windshield wipers.

It seems motorists would not slug the meters when they park. Instead, they leave the coins for the officers—thus getting free time.

When you make chicken stew brown the chicken parts slowly and for a long time before adding the liquid. The browning should take from 20 to 30 minutes at least and will make the gravy an attractive, rich color. Parsley dumplings are delicious served with a chicken stew.

Administration. Veterans' Organizations already have raised an uproar, and the armed services are not expected to like the idea. 3. Transfer of the work of the Army's Corps of Engineers to the Interior Department. This would be part of a plan to give Interior full authority over all water development work and public power planning. The highly controversial public power and reclamation issues are involved here.

4. Giving the Secretary of National Defense full power within his department, denying the secretaries of each of the armed forces their present right of appeal to the White House. In the original unification plan, the Navy insisted on this right of appeal.

5. Turning the Civil Service Commission into a policy making body, with administrative agencies doing most of their own hiring and firing. Opponents see this as a return to the spoils system.

Fashion Pointers Given For Spring

Failure to cut fabrics on the grain of the material probably results in more misfits for home sewers than all other causes, believes Miss Verna Latzke, specialist in clothing at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. If pattern markings indicating the straight of the goods are not carefully observed in placing the pattern on the material, the finished garment will pull out of shape and fail to hang correctly, she stated.

Other pointers on spring sewing made by the fashion authority are: (1) Buy sanforized cottons or those labeled with a positive guarantee as to the amount of shrinkage to be expected. Not bearing such labels, the fabric should be preshrunk before making. (2) Check the pattern with body measurements, then alter the pattern before cutting the garment. (3) Keep trimmings simple. Trimming of the dress fabric or rows of machine stitching are always effective. (4) Check neckline to see that it is neither too deep nor wide. (5) Use pockets only if the wearer can afford to accent the neckline. (6) When stripes or plaids are used, an extra amount must be purchased to allow for careful matching of stripes or

Little Boy Falls From Moving Car

Motorists Urged To Guard Children Against Such Accidents

Motorists are cautioned to keep careful watch over children riding in automobiles to prevent the little folk from opening doors and tumbling from moving vehicles, Levi Oliver, State policeman, said last week.

The warning was issued after 4-year-old Kahle Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morris, Route 1, Hopkinsville, was seriously injured in such a fall near Golden Pond recently.

Mr. Oliver, who was second on the scene of the accident, said the car was traveling at a reasonable rate of speed when the child fell. He took Kahle to the Murray hospital immediately.

The State policeman, who is from Eddyville, is one of the "flying squad" whose members are sent wherever an additional man is needed. He was at Princeton headquarters last week.

To Be Headquarters For Zone, Including
25 Counties

Highway Commissioner John A. Keck has announced Madisonville has been selected as headquarters for a new zone-location district. It will cover 25 Western Kentucky counties.

It will be called Zone D and take its counties from Zone A with headquarters at Bowling Green.

Keck said an office will be established at Madisonville, if adequate office space and housing for personnel can be found at reasonable prices.

"Establishment of a new zone office, the fourth in the State, is sorely needed to facilitate the department's current location program," he said.

Lexington is headquarters for Zone B and London for Zone C. Lamar Riney, engineer formerly in charge of the Highway Department's regular district office at Bowling Green, will be the new zone chief at Madisonville.

The annual tournament of the Tennessee Valley Golf Association will be played July 27-29 over the course of Princeton Golf and Country Club.

The tournament will be matched play, 16 to a flight. Qualifying will be July 27, and play will begin July 28. There will be a Calcutta during the play, tournament officials said.

About 150 players from about 35 clubs in Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama are expected to participate. The Association is made up of clubs with nine-hole courses.

Winner will receive a permanent trophy and will keep until next year a silver tea service which rotates from winner to winner. His name will be engraved on the traveling trophy, which goes to each winner for a year. He will also receive other prizes of merchandise.

All money received from club entries and from individual entry fees will be used to provide prizes for those who place high in the tournament and for winners in each flight. About $600 is expected to be spent for prizes.

The tournament is so arranged that win, lose or draw a player will have at least two days of play. The first day he will qualify and the second day, if he does not place high enough to be eligible as flight winner, he will have an opportunity to try for the consolation prize in the

Here's convincing proof of low maintenance cost on General Electric Refrigerators!

Records of Louisville Housing Commission show yearly maintenance as low as 16c per refrigerator

N. H. Dosker, Administrator of the Municipal Housing Commission of the City of Louisville, states:

"Our Commission has from the beginning of its operation kept a detailed break-down of all maintenance costs on our Public Housing Projects.

"We have General Electric Refrigerators in each of the 2669 dwelling units in the four projects referred to below.

"CLARKSDALE PROJECT: 786 General Electric Refrigerators installed July, 1940. Average maintenance cost over an eight-year period—19c per refrigerator per year.

"BEECHER TERRACE PROJECT: 808 General Electric Refrigerators installed October, 1940. Average maintenance cost over an eight-year period—16c per refrigerator per year.

"PARKWAY PLACE PROJECT: 652 General Electric Refrigerators installed October, 1942. Average maintenance cost over a six-year period—16c per refrigerator per year.

"SHEPPARD SQUARE PROJECT: 423 General Electric Refrigerators installed February, 1943. Average maintenance cost over a six-year period—22c per refrigerator per year."

General Electric has the greatest public acceptance of any refrigerator

Largely because of its record for dependability, the General Electric Refrigerator is the refrigerator that surveys show to be preferred by the highest percentage of women.

This is an assurance of its acceptability when installed in any housing project. General Electric Company, Bridgeport 2, Connecticut.

Scouts To Attend District Camporee

Event Will Be Friday And Saturday At Turkey Creek

About 12 boys from each of Princeton's Boy Scout troops, plan to attend the Three-Rivers District Camporee Friday night and Saturday at Turkey Creek on Kentucky Lake.

The camporee will open at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and close at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Besides Troop 39 and Troop 42, Princeton, troops from Kuttawa, Eddyville and Marion are expected at the camporee.

Scouters planning to attend from here include W. D. Armstrong, district chairman of camping activities; R. S. Gregory; Joe Weeks, scoutmaster of Troop 42, and Jack Granstaff, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 39.

Patrols will compete in Scoutcraft and stunts. Scouts will also be graded on packs, how they keep their camps, conduct and personal appearance. Ribbons will be awarded to those making high standings.

Mr. Armstrong discussed the camporee with members of the District Committee Tuesday night in Eddyville.

Warning Issued About Army Worm

May Attack County At Any Time, Mabry Says

A warning to watch for army worms has been issued by R. A. Mabry, county agent. These worms are doing considerable damage in counties west of Caldwell and it is possible they will attack here at any time, he said.

The cornfields of Glenn Farmer have been riddled by worms, Mr. Mabry said. Specimen have been sent to the University of Kentucky Experiment Station and a report was expected Wednesday afternoon.

"Our neighbors in the western part of the State are using chlordane to fight the worms," Mr. Mabry said. "The proportion is one quart of chlordane to 12 gallons of water."

This is to be used only where livestock can be kept off the fields for a period of three weeks he warned.

"Any farmer who discovers army worms or what he thinks may be army worms on his land is requested to report immediately to the county agent's office, Mr. Mabry said."

44 Cars Of Dark Tobacco Shipped

France And Germany To Get More Than 7,000 Hogsheads

Forty-four freight cars, loaded with Dark Fired and Dark Air-cured tobacco, left Springfield last Saturday, destined for France by boat from New Orleans. This represents part of the first large export shipment of Dark Tobacco to France in a long time.

This shipment took 1,500 hogsheads from the stocks of the Eastern Dark Fired Tobacco Growers' Association. The balance of the Eastern shipment moved from Hopkinsville, and Clarksville, Tenn.

A second large shipment of Dark Fired and Dark Air-Cured tobacco is scheduled to begin moving Monday, May 23. It will approximate the volume of the first shipment. A total of approximately 7,000 hogsheads of Dark tobacco will move out for France in the next 30 days. This tobacco will come from the stocks of the three Dark Tobacco Cooperatives, serving Kentucky and Tennessee. All of this tobacco will be from the 1946 crop.

During recent months sizeable quantities of the 1947 crop of Dark tobacco have been shipped to Germany. Other shipments will follow in the next few weeks.

These shipments of Dark tobacco to France and Germany are definitely encouraging to growers of Dark Fired and Dark Air-Cured tobacco. These foreign shipments were made possible by the management of the Eastern and Western Dark Fired Tobacco Associations and

MEN READ CAREFULLY—Friday, May 20th at 10 AM sharp or 2 PM sharp, or 7:30 PM sharp, I want to talk with 28 men who are really ambitious in securing a position that will give them the opportunity of making money. It doesn't matter what your past work has been. All we ask is that you be willing to study and learn, as we teach you our work. It will be necessary that you be willing to get along on $35.00-$55.00 per week for the first 4 to 6 weeks while learning our work. You must be able to give the names of 3 people who will vouch for your honesty and integrity. We prefer men who are married or who have some responsibility. I would also like to talk with a few men who are mechanically inclined and who know a good thing when they see it. Therefore, if you are honest and of good character, a willing worker and neat in appearance come and talk with me. Ask for Mr. Sanders, Factory Representative, Henretta Hotel.
